Egypt Charges Britain France Threaten Peace

Cairo Requests Curbs By U. N.

LONDON, Sept. 24 (AP)—Egypt charged today British and French actions in the Suez Canal dispute threaten world peace and asked for urgent U.N. curbs on them.

Egypt's President Nasser made his diplomatic countermove 48 hours before the council meets in New York to hear the request Britain and France made Sunday for U.N. action on Suez.

Egypt's maneuver to avoid the role of defendant at Wednesday's U.N. meeting apparently caught the British by surprise.

The Foreign Office said there would be no comment tonight.

The French-British request for a Security Council meeting referred to Egypt's seizure of the canal July 26 as unilateral action in violation of the Suez Canal Convention of 1888. That convention assured freedom of passage through the canal for all nations. Charter Violation: Charged

The Egyptian note to the Security Council asked it to consider "actions against Egypt by some powers, particularly France and the United Kingdom, which constitute a danger to international peace and security and are serious violations of the charter of the United Nations."

These actions were not spelled out. But Egypt has turned heavy criticism on the French and British military buildup in the Mediterranean, particularly on the British Isle of Cyprus, since the canal dispute arose.

Lloyd Sees Test Of U. N.

Arguing Britain's case in a TV broadcast, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said tonight presentation of the issue before the Security Council Wednesday would be a "test of the United Nations" in its ability to preserve justice and international law.

Rallying to Egypt's support, Syrian and Saudi Arabian chiefs of state declared their solidarity with Egypt at conclusion of a three-power Arab "summit" meeting.

V. K. Krishna Menon, India's roving trouble-shooter, appeared on the London scene direct from a week of talks with Egyptian President Nasser. He conferred for nearly an hour with Lloyd.

Postoperative Complications Beset Somoza

PANAMA, Sept. 24 (AP)—President Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua showed slight improvement tonight after taking a turn for the worse earlier in the day.

An evening medical bulletin said the Nicaraguan strong man, shot by an assassin Friday, still was paralyzed on the left side but the paralysis was clearing up.

Reflexes of the left arm and leg, absent in the morning, have returned.

Somoza's breathing also was more regular, the bulletin reported. Surgeons opened a hole in his windpipe to help him breathe when his condition unexpectedly grew worse this morning.

Blood pressure, temperature and pulse were not yet normal but were considered satisfactory, the bulletin said.

The medical report was issued by doctors at the U.S.-operated Gorgas Hospital in suburban Ancon.

Somoza was on the operating table at Gorgas Hospital 4 hours and 20 minutes yesterday. Doctors operated to remove a bullet which had lodged against his spine, and for wounds on the arm and thigh.

Plane Crash On Colorado Peak Kills 11

Wreckage Reached By Ground Party; Bodies Are Charred

SALIDA, Colo., Sept. 24 (AP)—A two-engine plane smashed into the north face of 14,172-foot Mount Yale today and Undersheriff Harold Thonoff said a ground search party found 11 charred bodies in the burned wreckage.

The bodies and ruins of the unidentified plane were strewn among a huge rockslide above timberline near the continental divide, 120 miles airline miles southwest of Denver.

It took the ground party nearly five hours to travel by jeeps and horseback to the crash scene. Thonoff said the ground party reported the plane appeared to be a military aircraft.

Lowry Air Force Base officials in Denver said a number, 34846, which the ground party reported finding on the shattered tail section was incomplete. They said it would include a prefix N for civilian or AF for an Air Force plane.

Both civilian and military sources in Colorado said they had no reports of missing planes.

The undersheriff said Deputy Sheriff Frank Mansheim and Coroner Joseph Stewart intended to remain overnight at the scene and that no attempt would be made to remove the bodies until Air Force officials arrive.

The plane crashed about 10 a.m. but treacherous winds prevented helicopters and other aircraft from making a close inspection of the wreckage.

Jordan Fears Israelis Plan Reprisal Raid

JERUSALEM, Sept. 24 (AP)—Jordan was reported getting set today for a feared reprisal raid after the killing of four Israelis in two days close to the border.

A Jewish woman was killed today while working in a field near Amdav settlement, close to the Israeli-Jordan demarcation line. An Israeli army spokesman said gunfire from the director of Jordan killed her.

Yesterday 3 Israelis were killed and 15 wounded by firing from Jordan upon a party of 700 persons viewing archaeological excavations in Jerusalem's ancient southern limits.

Today Jordan was reported clearing traffic from central Judean roads, including the Jerusalem-Bethlehem highway, apparently fearing Israeli forces would strike back.

Jordan complained to the U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission that two of her defense posts were wiped out early this month by 1,000-man Israeli raids following other border incidents.

Earl Godwin, News Commentator, Dies

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—Earl Godwin, nationally known radio news commentator, who had been ill of a heart ailment, died in his sleep today. He was 75.

Dean of Washington radio correspondents, Godwin had been on the staff of radio station WRC since 1936 and broadcast a daily news program at 6:15 p.m. for many years.

Because of his illness, he had not been able to broadcast regularly since last May. He died at his summer home in Rehoboth Beach, Del.

Desegregation Brings School Walkout In Ky.

HENDERSON, Ky., Sept. 24 (AP)—Some 570 white children today walked out of Weaverton Elementary School in this western Kentucky, Ohio River city in a protest led by their parents and a white citizens group against enrollment of five Negroes.

About 300 students attending the first through eighth grade classes remained in school with the Negro children. The Negroes are enrolled in the first, second and third grades.

An orderly crowd, which reached a peak of about 100 persons at noon, gathered outside the school building. There were no demonstrations when school opened or when classes were dismissed.

The recently formed White Citizens Council of Henderson County announced it would seek a sympathetic walkout of white students throughout the Henderson city and county school districts.

The five Negro children attending Weaverton School are the only Negroes enrolled in county schools. Seven Negro first grade students attend elementary schools in the city district.

The White Citizens Council, organized at a meeting here last Saturday night and headed by Rayburn Sugg Jr., urged white students of all schools and their parents to conduct the boycott peacefully.

Defense Chief Has Operation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson was operated on today for a "benign prostatic condition" detected during a routine physical examination last week.

The 75-minute operation was performed at Walter Reed Army Hospital. Wilson's condition was described as "satisfactory."

Water Bombing Of Huge Forest Fire Is Resumed

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Sept. 24 (AP)—Airplanes resumed water bombing a disastrous forest fire in the Lake Arrowhead area as a heavy smoke curtain lifted today.

The fire—started Friday by the crash of a jet plane—has taken a toll of nearly 10,000 acres of burned over watershed. Nine firefighters have been injured, including five who suffered major burns.

Three summer homes were destroyed and the blaze also consumed abandoned buildings on the Allison ranch near Lake Arrowhead High School.

Forestry officials estimated at least 1,000 persons have left summer homes and rented cabins in this resort area about 60 miles east of Los Angeles. The area is in the mountains which separate the coastal plain from the Mojave Desert.

This morning the smoke pall from the fire was so heavy that eight planes were grounded. But Virgil Shoemaker, U.S. Forest Service fire dispatcher, said they went back to work this afternoon, concentrating on the fireline a mile east of Lake Arrowhead village. The fire was burning in a northeasterly direction, paralleling Lake Arrowhead, but a mile east of it.

This is the fifth fire this season in which the new air water lift has been used. The squadron is made up of seven crop duster planes and a war surplus Navy torpedo bomber.

Another 100 Indian firefighters were flown in from thebuquerque area this afternoon, bringing the total of Indians on the firelines to 250. In all about 2,000 men are fighting the flames.

Ike Challenged By Stevenson

Asks Proof Farm Pledges Fulfilled

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 24 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson challenged President Eisenhower today to prove in his speech tomorrow that the Republicans have carried out the promises they made to the farmers in 1952.

The Democratic nominee hurled his challenge unexpectedly in a roadside address at Chandler, Okla., before appearing in front of cheering thousands at the end of a Children's Day at the Oklahoma State Fair here.

Stevenson repeated the challenge in the Oklahoma City address, which was billed as one of his major campaign speeches.

Noting Eisenhower has promised to detail his farm views in tomorrow night's address from Peoria, Ill., Stevenson told a crowd in front of the Chandler courthouse, where he paused on a swift motor sweep through this farming and oil region, "I wonder what he is going to say."

Then the Democratic candidate said he thinks Eisenhower "owes it to all Americans to say in good faith" what the Republicans have done "to fulfill their commitments they made four years ago."

Stevenson said he was particularly interested in what Eisenhower would have to say about price supports. The Democrats have been feuding with the President for at least three years over the meaning of a price support statement Eisenhower made at Kasson, Minn., in 1952.

They say he promised 100 percent of parity but later came out for a flexible system of price supports. Eisenhower contends he only urged full parity "in the market place" with no specific commitment on long term price supports.

After the Chandler speech, one of two quick stops he made during the afternoon, Stevenson rolled on to Oklahoma City where he accused the administration of indifference and neglect toward the needs of the farmer, the wage earner and the small businessman.

The election is to be held as soon as possible before Oct. 24 to give dock workers a choice—their third similar poll in three years—between the independent International Longshoremen's Assn. and the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Longshoremen.

The ILA was expelled from the American Federation of Labor three years ago on charges of being dominated by hoodlums and racketeers. Only last Friday, the ILA lost a plea for entry into the AFL-CIO. George Meany, AFL-CIO president, ruled the ILA has never accomplished the cleanup demanded of it.

The new election among waterfront longshoremen was ordered by the National Labor Relations Board. It called on the unions and the New York Shipping Assn. to maintain "industrial peace and stability" on the docks as "a patriotic duty" until after the election.

In addition, a Canadian civilian clerk of the Royal Canadian Air Force at Rockcliffe Air station was dismissed in June for his association with the diplomat.

The Russian was identified as G. F. Popov, second secretary of the Soviet embassy. Soviet Ambassador Dmitri Chuvakhin was told July 12 Popov had engaged in "activities incompatible with his continued presence" in Canada and that he should be withdrawn. He left a month later.

Chuvakhin has been Soviet ambassador in Canada since Oct. 15, 1953. Canada had been without a Soviet ambassador since 1946, when Igor Gouzenko, a cipher clerk in the Soviet embassy, disclosed the existence of a Soviet espionage ring in Canada. Canadian authorities prosecuted a number of Canadians as a result of Gouzenko's disclosures.

There was no immediate evidence that any prosecutions would be forthcoming as a result of Popov's expulsion.

Ike Will Give Farm "Facts" In Talk Today

President Speaks From Peoria, Ill., On Radio And TV

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower will fly to Peoria, Ill., tomorrow for a campaign speech which the White House said "will present the facts of the farm situation."

That description came today from press secretary James C. Hagerty, who also said one section of the speech would deal with the problems of the small farmer.

Hagerty was asked whether Eisenhower would use the occasion to reply to the contention of Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, that the nation is undergoing a farm depression.

Called "Tragedy" By Adlai

The secretary replied that Eisenhower would present the facts, and a reporter then asked whether the facts needed straightening out. Hagerty answered:

"I don't think the facts need straightening out. I think the presentation of the facts needs straightening sometimes."

Stevenson said at Newton, Iowa, last Saturday that under the Republicans, the family farm has fallen into trouble. Stevenson called it "an American tragedy."

Policy Change Hinted

Tomorrow night's speech by Eisenhower at Peoria will be delivered from 8:30 to 9 p.m. CDT and the scene will be the field house at Bradley University. The CBS radio and television networks will carry it. It will be Eisenhower's second address of the campaign to be carried on radio and TV nationally.

Hagerty refused to say whether the President would announce any change in administration farm policy. He was asked about a report that Eisenhower would announce a change in price supports for farm products. He said he hadn't seen the report.

No Dock Strike Pending Ballot Asked By NLRB

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—The government today ordered a new bargaining rights election held between rival New York waterfront longshoremen's unions and asked for a strike holiday until after the balloting.

The election is to be held as soon as possible before Oct. 24 to give dock workers a choice—their third similar poll in three years—between the independent International Longshoremen's Assn. and the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Longshoremen.

The ILA was expelled from the American Federation of Labor three years ago on charges of being dominated by hoodlums and racketeers. Only last Friday, the ILA lost a plea for entry into the AFL-CIO. George Meany, AFL-CIO president, ruled the ILA has never accomplished the cleanup demanded of it.

OTTAWA, Sept. 24 (AP)—Canada disclosed today it has ousted a Soviet diplomat because of his efforts to obtain secret information about Canada's new CF105 jet fighter.

In addition, a Canadian civilian clerk of the Royal Canadian Air Force at Rockcliffe Air station was dismissed in June for his association with the diplomat.

The Russian was identified as G. F. Popov, second secretary of the Soviet embassy. Soviet Ambassador Dmitri Chuvakhin was told July 12 Popov had engaged in "activities incompatible with his continued presence" in Canada and that he should be withdrawn. He left a month later.

D.C. Integration Probe Counsel, Adlai Criticized

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—Rep. Wier (D-Minn.) said today the counsel for a House investigation of Washington's school integration problems has given a "disgraceful performance" and should be suspended.

The target of Wier's criticism was William Gerber, counsel for a special House subcommittee now holding its second week of public hearings.

Chairman James C. Davis (D-Ga.) earlier today hit back at criticism of the inquiry by Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Stevenson had said, "I think the hearings are serving no constructive purpose."

Wier outlined his complaint against Gerber in a telegram from Minneapolis to the House District of Columbia Committee, the subcommittee's parent body.

"Misinformed," Davis Says

He said Gerber's "sole object seems to be to prove that integration has not worked and . . . to prevent it from working in the future."

Wier, a member of the full committee but not of the subcommittee, said Gerber should be suspended pending a "review" of his role in the hearings.

Davis told newsmen the hearings would "of course" continue with Gerber as counsel. He said he felt Wier "has been grossly misinformed."

A statement by Davis noting Stevenson's criticism was read at the start of the day's hearing.

"Hit Dog Always Yowls"

Davis said the subcommittee is doing "a thorough and complete job, and no protesting radicals are going to stop it." He added this comment on the view expressed by Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee.

"The hit dog always howls, and if Mr. Stevenson wants to help the hit dog howl in this instance, it is certainly his privilege to do so."

Stevenson in a telegram read yesterday at a protest rally here, said "I think the hearings are serving no constructive purpose."

The rally was sponsored by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, whose leaders have criticized the investigation.

President Eisenhower last week was quoted as saying he did not believe the hearings would impair desegregation in Washington schools or the "good sense" manliness in which the President said integration was being carried out.

Staples said today he had been approached socially by the Russians at a chess club in Ottawa and, after some months of friendship, found they were fishing for military information. He said Boris Ivanov, former secretary to the Soviet ambassador, once asked him some questions about the CF105, but he knew nothing about the craft and said so.

Tides Of Five To Eight Feet Are Forecast

Low Coastal Areas Evacuated; Winds Create Sand Storm

PANAMA CITY, Fla., Sept. 24 (AP)—Hurricane Flossy late today struck the northwestern Florida coast at Fort Walton, 50 miles west of here, with winds ranging up to 100 m.p.h.

Gales extended outward 150 to 200 miles, mainly to the east and south of the storm's center.

Southeast storm warnings were ordered raised from Brunswick, Ga., to Wilmington, N.C., in an advisory issued by the New Orleans Weather Bureau at 4 p.m. CST.

The Weather Bureau said Flossy was moving inland at Fort Walton in an east-northeasterly direction at 15 m.p.h.

The area between Fort Walton eastward to Cedar Keys was warned that tides of five to eight feet could be expected tonight.

The Weather Bureau urged evacuation of low coastal areas.

At Least Three Dead

The killer storm, which glanced at southeastern Louisiana earlier today, caused at least three deaths and stranded more than 60 persons in the storm-tossed Gulf of Mexico. An unofficial estimate of property damages, mostly to oil drilling equipment in the gulf, ran up to two million dollars.

The winds created a blinding sand storm which was powerful enough to blast paint off automobiles.

The public information office at Eglin Air Force Base near Fort Walton Beach reported at 5:10 p.m. the eye of the hurricane appeared to be passing over that area. Heavy rains and high winds halted about 5 p.m. and a calm light breeze was blowing.

No property damage was reported up to that time.

Sand Covers Highway

Sand two to three feet deep covered stretches of U.S. Highway 98, the main coastal artery. Rising tides of five to six feet sent angry waters from the Gulf of Mexico pounding across the roadway at low spots between Fort Walton Beach and Panama City.

The Florida Highway Patrol office reported approaches to the Choctawhatchee Bay bridge on U.S. 331 were under water at both ends and all traffic was halted between Fort Walton Beach and Destin.

Traffic also was out on the scenic highway east of Pensacola because of high water.

At the Panama City beach, 12 miles west of here, hurricane force winds unroofed several houses and threatened a 1,000-foot long Panama City beach pier.

Evacuees from coastal areas began pouring into Panama City shortly after dark and were sent to shelters hastily set up in schools and church buildings throughout the city.

U.S. Would Put A-Plan Under World Agency

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 24 (AP)—The United States promised today to place its atomic-sharing program under safeguards proposed for an international atomic energy agency if others would do the same.

U.S. Delegate James J. Wadsworth made the offer in opening general debate in the 81-nation atoms-for-peace conference. He said the strong provisions against military misuse contained in a proposed statute for the agency could be extended to bilateral agreements among countries upon their request. The United States has such agreements with 39 other countries. Britain, Canada and the Soviet Union also have them.

"The United States," Wadsworth said, "hopes that parties to bilateral arrangements throughout the world will avail themselves of this provision (to extend safeguards to these agreements) thus contributing toward the eventual establishment of a uniform system of safeguards of universal application."

"If this is done," he added, "the United States can look forward to making the agency the cornerstone of its international activities in the field of atomic energy."

Wadsworth said the proposed statute was agreed upon by 12 negotiating powers in Washington but that it was not perfect. He said, however, the questions still not settled "do not loom large."

Campaign Spending Reports Promised By Mahoney, Butler

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—Both Maryland candidates for the U.S. Senate had promised today to tell all about their campaign spending.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) had asked all candidates to report on contributions and expenditures to his subcommittee of the Senate Rules Committee.

"I will be very happy to supply the subcommittee with any information it may desire," said George P. Mahoney, the Democratic candidate for Senate.

"I will give them anything they want, our books are open," stated Sen. Butler, Republican candidate for reelection.

Mahoney has frequently criticized the source of Butler's contributions in the 1950 campaign in which he unseated Millard E. Tydings. Mahoney said they came from "Texas oil men" and has claimed that Butler is under "absentee ownership."

Gore's committee also was asked by John G. Turnbull, Maryland Democratic campaign manager, to investigate reports that Butler intends to pay $90,000 for radio and television advertising in this campaign.

Turnbull said it was a "fantastically" large amount for a Maryland campaign.

Butler moved his campaign into Prince Georges County today. In the morning, he attended a coffee reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Thomas in Laurel before going on a hand-shaking tour of the area.

He addressed the Federation of Republican Women of the county at the Legion Hall in Cheverly tonight.

If time permitted, he also planned to appear at a rally of Young Republicans in Washington. Mahoney stayed close to his home base throughout the day.

He kept up his tilling, however, with Butler by issuing a statement renewing debate on tax relief.

Last week, Mahoney said he favored relief for small business in the form of a graduated income tax as contained in the national Democratic platform.

"Senator Butler immediately condemned the proposal as one which had been advanced only by left wingers and socialists," Mahoney stated.

He recalled that two bills introduced at the last session of Congress co-sponsored by Sen. Beall, Senator Butler's Republican colleague, "embodied the principle of graduation."

Lawyer Trying Since 1952 For Marine Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—A Washington lawyer said today he has been trying for four years to interest Congress in an investigation of "maltreatment" of Marine recruits.

Robert J. Patch said since early 1952 he had sent the Senate Armed Services Committee about a dozen reports on treatment of Marine recruits.

"I sent a letter with each report requesting an investigation," Patch said. The first two times, he added, the committee declined the request.

Subsequent reports and letters were "simply ignored," he added. Last April 8, six marine recruits drowned at Parris Island, S. C., when Sgt. Matthew McKeon, marched a platoon into a marshy area.

The family of Jerry Lamont Thomas, one of the victims, yesterday called for a congressional probe of recruit training methods in the corps. Thomas was a son of Mrs. Alma Coughlin of Alexandria, Va.

Patch said he first became interested in recruit treatment in late 1951. At that time, he said, a friend of his who had gone through "boot training" at San Diego reported drill instructors were "pretty generally beating up" recruits.

After getting details from his friend, Patch added, he started checking with other persons who had taken recruit training at San Diego or Parris Island.

"They all told the same story," Patch said.

Cars Kill Two Boys

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—Two boys, one eight and the other 15 years old, were killed in automobile accidents today with little more than an hour of each other.

Joseph H. Butcher, 15, apparently was struck by a truck, and Louis Smith, 8, was hit by a car about an hour later. Both victims were Negroes.

Britain, Canada, U.S. Sign Atom Data Pool Pact

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—The United States, Britain and Canada today signed an agreement to pool their atomic patent rights for private nuclear enterprises.

Each government assigns to the others the rights, title and interests it owns in the other countries. License rights are firmly held, however, for mutual defense purposes.

One clause binds each government to license nationals of the others on the same terms accorded to its own nationals.

Atomic inventions and discoveries covered by government-owned patents as of last Nov. 15 are affected. This cutoff date includes the time when atomic operations were largely a government monopoly.

A State Department comment on the agreement said:

"The agreement is expected to be of particular benefit to the growing private atomic energy in each of the signatory countries by eliminating questions of patent infringement."

This means firms will need licenses only from their own governments. The United States, for example, could grant American industry royalty-free licenses to use inventions developed in Canada and Britain.

U.S., Russia Swap Memos On Atom

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—The United States and Russia have exchanged memorandums on peaceful uses of atomic energy. State Department officials said today.

The American note was delivered to the Soviet government about a month ago by U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen. Sergei Striganov, Soviet embassy charge d'affaires, delivered the Russian reply today.

State Department officials and Striganov were equally close-mouthed about the exchange. U.S. officials said the notes would be made public the next day or so.

It was understood the U.S. memorandum proposed a policy on peaceful uses of atomic energy and requested the Soviet Union to agree.

Woman Loses Fortune Under Ruling By Judge

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 (AP)—A Superior Court judge today took from Mrs. Mollie Netcher Bragno, wife of a wealthy wine maker, the 12-million-dollar department store fortune of her grandmother.

The ruling by Judge George M. Fisher places the estate of the grandmother, Mrs. Mollie Netcher Newbury, back into the estate of Charles Netcher, first husband of Mrs. Newbury. He died in 1905 and she in 1954.

Judge Fisher upheld a report of a master in chancery recommending a $16,728,742 judgment against Mrs. Bragno in a suit filed six years ago by other Newbury relatives.

4 Die When Plane Crashes Into House

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 24 (AP)—A training plane, apparently being evacuated from Tyndall Air Force Base near Panama City, crashed into a house 12 miles east of Tallahassee today killing an expectant mother and her three children.

The pilot, Lt. Roderick Adams, 24, bailed out before the crash and was only slightly injured. Deputy Sheriff Jack Dawkins said a witness told him the plane was on fire before it hit squarely on the roof of the isolated house.

Eisenhower To Speak In Cleveland Monday

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower decided today to make a midday speech in Cleveland, Ohio, next Monday before going on to Lexington, Ky. for a major campaign address that night.

Walter H. Moses, Mrs. Bragno's lawyer, said he will appeal.

The suit was brought by Mrs. Bragno's sister, Mrs. Frances Netcher Bushkin, wife of a New York jazz pianist, and Mrs. Ethel Netcher Chagnon, an aunt of Mrs. Bragno and only surviving child of Netcher.

Mrs. Bushkin and Mrs. Bragno are the only children of Charles Netcher Jr., who died in 1931.

The master's report recommended the 16 million dollars damages be charged against the 12 million dollar estate of Mrs. Newbury who, the suit alleged, mismanaged the Netcher trust while building up her own personal estate.

The Netcher estate was amassed in the Boston Store, a State Street department store now defunct.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEREETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEREETH at any drug counter.

Reddick Fights His Dismissal In Court Action

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—Federal Judge R. Dorsey Watkins today heard arguments from both sides in the case of a roofing firm charged with making a "payoff" to a union official in order to get union cards for its non-union employees.

Weather Mastic Inc., of Baltimore and two of its officers are accused of conspiracy to violate the Taft-Hartley law. The government charges that through a labor adviser for the company, they offered $700 to Joseph Martin, a roofer's local official, to obtain union cards for company employees so they could work on a job where only union labor was accepted.

Martin notified the FBI of the payments and was the main government witness at the trial.

Company Vice President James H. Parran, and Frank P. Ventimiglia, the labor adviser, through counsel have contended that Martin was not legally a representative of the company employees and therefore the charge should be dismissed.

Four other counts in the same indictment were in fact dismissed for this reason by Judge Watkins. But the judge said in deciding the conspiracy count he will consider not only what Martin actually was, but what the alleged conspirators intended him to be and whether they treated him as a "representative."

The Taft-Hartley act makes it unlawful for an employer to pay anything to a representative of his employees.

License Application Checks Start Oct. 1

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Maryland Department of Motor Vehicles is going to "slow down" its issuance of licenses for drivers.

Commissioner Frank Small Jr. said today a thorough check will be made starting Oct. 1 of all applicants to be sure they have no past record making them ineligible.

Eligible applicants then will be mailed a permit and a date set for them to appear to take the test.

Judge Hears Arguments In Union "Payoff" Case

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—Dr. Robert H. Reddick went to court today to challenge his dismissal as psychiatrist at the Eastern Shore State Hospital in Cambridge.

Russell S. Davis, commissioner of personnel, discharged Reddick last week.

Reddick claimed in his suit the hearing was unfair because the attorney general's office prosecuted the charges against him and at the same time advised Davis.

The superintendent of the hospital requested Dr. Reddick's dismissal and he was backed up by Dr. Clifton T. Perkins, commissioner of mental hygiene.

Dr. Reddick's court suit asking for the Davis order to be rescinded claimed evidence was based on gossip and hearsay.

It said the testimony stemmed from two court suits dealing with

Dr. Reddick's outside activities connected with the homeopathic examining board and that witnesses agreed he had performed his duties at the hospital properly.

The psychiatrist contended his discharge violated the merit system by removing him without cause.

Dr. Reddick had been under fire of the attorney general's office for his actions in giving examinations and issuing medical licenses in the name of the Maryland Homeopathic Society.

The attorney general contended he had set up his own examining board after resigning under pressure as secretary-treasurer. Circuit Judge Joseph R. Byrnes issued injunctions against Dr. Reddick and requests for a review are pending before the Court of Appeals.

Judge Michael J. Manley of Superior Court gave Davis until 10 to reply to Dr. Reddick's contest of his dismissal.

Boycott Of Talbot School Continues

EASTON, Md., Sept. 24 (AP)—The school boycott in Talbot County, most pronounced protest to integration in Maryland at this time, continued virtually unabated today.

There were 52 white students, eight of them reported sick, absent from classes at the Hanson St. Elementary School in Easton. That was seven less than the number of absentees last Friday.

Four students, the same as last Friday, remained at home in Oxford.

The protest is over admission of nine Negroes to the two formerly all-white schools.

The Board of Education, meanwhile, is preparing to answer a request from the White Citizens Council.

The Council asked the board to reconsider its policy admitting the Negroes or agree to a friendly court suit to test it.

Documents Returned

BONN, Sept. 24 (AP)—The United States, Britain and France have returned 50 tons of prewar and wartime documents to the West German Foreign Office. The documents covering the periods 1867-1913 and 1937-1945 were confiscated by the Allies when invading armies swept into Germany in 1945.

Man Found Dead; Murder Hinted

GAMBRILLS, Md., Sept. 24 (AP)—The body of Meyer Lyinsky, a retired Army major about 55 years old, was found today by neighbors wondering why they hadn't seen him for six days.

"We're proceeding on the theory that he was murdered," said Wilbur C. Wade, Anne Arundel chief of police.

He said it will be necessary to perform an autopsy to find out how Lyinsky died because the body was so decomposed.

It was found by J. C. Beard covered by a blanket, an old door, a piece of tin and lumber on 300 acres of property owned by Lyinsky. He had lived there for three years in a trailer with only a dog as a companion.

The property, called North River Farms, is off Rutland Road about 8 miles north of Davidsonville.

The body was found near a path between a house and the trailer. A pool of dried blood near the path was covered with a piece of sheet rock which also was splattered.

Heart Unit Opens With Program Today

The opening program in the education series sponsored by the Allegheny-Garrett County Heart Association will be held today at Frostburg State Teachers College, according to Mrs. Ora Mae Lewis, executive secretary of the two-county organization.

Speaker at the combined meeting of the Frostburg, Shaft, Eckhart and Midlothian Homemakers clubs will be Hilda Jane Walters, M. D., Mrs. Lewis said. Following the talk by Dr. Walters, a film, "The Valiant Heart," will be shown. This film, it was explained, depicts one boy's and his community's fight against rheumatic fever.

A question and answer period will follow the film, Mrs. Lewis stated, adding that the panel will be composed of Dr. Walters, Theodore P. Foote, chairman of the Heart Association's educational committee; Ernest B. Treat, president of the association; William C. Preston, vice president, and herself.

Most of Ecuador's rivers are interrupted by rapids and so are navigable for only short distances.

Local Resident Is Killed In Train-Car Accident

A 23-year-old local man was fatally injured yesterday in a train-car accident while on his way to work at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass plant at North Branch.

Killed instantly in the crash was Kenneth Wayne Files, husband of Mrs. Lois Mae (Ringer) Files, of 224 Harrison Street.

Files, who was employed as a sheetmetal worker for the Mitchell Construction Company, was on his way to work at the plant when his 1953 convertible stalled on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks and was struck by a three-unit light diesel.

Files was killed at the east crossing of the North Branch Crossing No. 737. Two crossings are located there, and the one which claimed the life of Files is known as the secondary crossing. The main crossing is known as the west crossing.

No Eye Witnesses

There were no eye-witnesses to the accident, but two employees of the railroad who were working near the scene at the time, told authorities they noticed the vehicle stalled and then saw the diesel "dead heading" it into Cumberland from Brunswick.

Trooper R. D. Wolford of the Maryland State Police, who investigated, said the accident occurred at approximately 7:15 a.m.

The impact was so terrific that the auto was pushed approximately 25 yards up the track. Files' body was thrown through the windshield and landed still another 20 yards from his car, or approximately 45 yards from the point of impact.

The motor in Files' car was found more than 100 yards from the crossing. After being struck by the diesel the motor "propelled" across a dirt road and down into a field, 100 yards from the crossing.

Files, who was married July 27 of this year, had been employed by the Mitchell Company only five months. He was a veteran of Korean War, and had not yet been discharged from the Navy. During the Korean war he was stationed aboard the USS Oriskany.

Alone In Car

Trooper Wolford said Files' vehicle became stalled on the tracks and that he apparently saw the diesel coming and attempted to back off the tracks. His car was in reverse gear and the transmission was jammed, Trooper Wolford said.

Trooper Wolford said H. L. Larick, this city, was the engineer on the diesel, and that Files was driving alone at the time of the accident.

A native of this city, he was a member of First Christian Church.

Besides his widow, he is survived by his parents, Walter F. and Ida (Shear) Files, city; four brothers, Walter F. Files, Jr., Billy B. Files and Ronald H. Files, all of this city, and Joseph B. Files, Baltimore; three sisters, Miss Pat Files, city; and Mrs. K. G. Cline, Pittsburgh, and Mrs. H. R. Frickey, city; two half-brothers, Robert L. and Gordon C. Files, both of Birmingham, Ala., and a half-sister, Mrs. Rose Ellen Smith, Birmingham, Ala.

The body is at the Scarpelli Funeral Home.

PAYCHECK ENEMY NO. 1: Unexpected hospital expenses

Protect your budget from the strain of unexpected hospital bills. Join BLUE CROSS.

You won't want to think about bills and budgets when sudden illness lays your "Little Leaguer" low. The important thing is to get him back in the lineup. But when he's back in the batter's box, scowling at the pitcher, your problems may be only beginning—if you haven't planned to meet them.

Luckily, planning to meet unexpected hospital expenses is easy, when you belong to Blue Cross, the non-profit plan to pre-pay hospital expenses.

Today over 950,000 Marylanders have, through membership in Blue Cross, broad realistic protection against the expense of sudden illness or accident.

Key to Blue Cross:

"Service Benefits"

The heart of Blue Cross is hospital care. Blue Cross's way of providing for the hospital care you may need is "service benefits." These are, to put it simply, agreements between Blue Cross and the member hospitals to provide the hospital care you need.

The emphasis, you see, is on care—not cash. Blue Cross does not give you dollars to help pay your hospital bills. Instead Blue Cross, through its "service benefits" pays the hospital directly for the services covered in your membership. You don't have to file a claim, or wait for reimbursement. Dollar payments are often not enough to cover hospital bills. Blue Cross records show that Blue Cross "service benefits" do often cover a subscriber's hospital expenses in full.

Find out now about Blue Cross

If there is a Blue Cross group where you work, ask your employer how you may join it. If there is no Blue Cross group where you work, and there are five or more people employed there, ask your employer about getting Blue Cross protection for you. You may get information about Blue Cross by calling the Blue Cross office listed in your telephone directory, or by writing for a free booklet to: Blue Cross, Dept. 1007A 200 West Baltimore St., Baltimore 1, Maryland.

Keyser Battery Gets Rating Of "Excellent"

Guard Unit Shows Steady Improvement

KEYSER — Major Donald A. Soll, US Army advisor for Battery C, 201st AFA, Battalion here, has submitted his final report on the rating given the local unit. The report shows that the National Guard unit, rated an overall "excellent," following the recent inspections in the Keyser Armory, according to Capt. Henry E. Wilt, commanding officer.

Major Soll's inspection was the fourth and final check before the annual general inspection to be conducted October 1 and 2, by Major W. A. Hanna.

According to Captain Wilt, the Keyser Battery has been complimented on appearance of the guardsmen, condition of equipment and a well organized supply room.

Major William H. Morris, commanding officer for the 201st Armored Field Artillery battalion, said that Battery C, has shown pride in the unit, as well as an improved appearance with their new red silk scarves worn by every member of the battery. "This pattern," said Major Morris, "should be followed by all units in the battalion."

Captain Wilt advises that there are positions open in the guard, such as motor sergeant, mess steward, artillery mechanic, communication chief, all of which can be filled by qualified veterans. All service men may enlist in the National Guard in the rank from which they were discharged. He also said that young men, 17-18 years old, have opportunity to begin their military obligation in the Guard, reducing the overall obligations by two years.

Inadequate Wiring Can Be Dangerous

Four of every five homes in the United States are in need of additional electric capacity to serve their ever-increasing number of appliances, according to a recent survey.

Americans have entered a new era of "live better electrically" that may tax home wiring facilities beyond efficient limits unless obsolete wiring is overhauled.

Principal factors determining the need for rewiring, it is said, are the purchase of additional appliances, home remodeling, and added convenience. Home air conditioners, electric ranges, clothes dryers, and water heaters are among appliances already in common use that are calling attention to insufficient circuits in many households.

Because the average person sees his wiring adequacy only at the fuse box or outlet level, most persons forget that the wiring system in the home may need overhauling and modernizing just as much as the house needs a new roof or a new coat of paint.

It is because of this lack of awareness by a large segment of the public that a campaign for more horsepower has been launched nationally. The campaign is being supported by one of the most extensive programs ever launched. It is being sponsored by management-owned utilities, electric manufacturers, appliance makers, electrical contractors and appliance dealers.

Homeowners are being urged to have an appraisal made to determine whether their electrical systems are capable of delivering the additional energy needed for the operation with safety of the ever-increasing number of appliances which make up modern comfortable living.

The average use of electricity in homes has increased tremendously during the past 10 years. No one knows at this point what additional drains will be made on home electrical circuits within the next few years.

Religion In The Schools

From the Parent-Teacher Association of the Jamaica High School of New York comes a letter addressed to Charles Silver of the Board of Education of New York City discussing the effort of the board to establish a program for "The Development of Moral and Spiritual Ideals in the Public Schools."

The letter is a protest against the program, lest somehow sectarian religion creep in. The gist of the letter is in this paragraph:

"... No safeguards have been set up to prevent the expression of religious views under the guise of moral or spiritual teaching. I need not remind the members of the board of education that there are over 200 religious sects in this country. Nor that each one is entitled, under our Constitution, to practice and teach its own beliefs in its own way. Nor ought we to forget the rights of the non-believers and of that numerous body of believers not affiliated with any particular sect."

One might ask this association whether its members prefer juvenile delinquents who are likely to be young people who have been safeguarded from moral and spiritual teaching of any kind and who have no respect for God, for their parents, for the laws of their country or for the rights and opinions of other human beings. The question arises where in the Constitution is there any such statement as the quoted statement says there is?

The only mention in the Constitution of religion is in the First Amendment and that only forbids the government to establish a church, perhaps providing its revenue out of taxes.

It is impossible to understand the fear of religion, despite the historic fact that those nations thrived best and their people lived most decently when they believed in a power outside themselves that makes for righteousness. We call that power God and when our people accepted God's guidance and His moral law, we were on the upbuilding phase of our history. During the present sophisticated phase, when it is possible for an association composed of parents and teachers to send a letter containing such a paragraph as I have quoted expressing a fear of religion, we are no longer on the up-building phase of our history. We are involved in such problems as broken homes, juvenile delinquency, excessive divorce, increasing crime, particularly sex crimes.

We have become a confused people, not because we have "over 200 religious sects," but because we have forsaken God and have substituted for Him something called human rights which can only be sustained as rights if they emanate from a Power greater than man. Otherwise what man establishes, other men can disestablish as Khrushchev has declared false what was true in Stalin's time—three years ago.

The letter I quote further states: "Teachers are human beings. Their abilities vary, including the one enabling them to keep strong personal views from being expressed tacitly or openly. We know there have been flagrant examples of such religious statements in the classrooms. We can only guess at the frequency of vaguer but equally disturbing expressions that have confused and confounded the minds of our children."

It would be interesting to know what the "flagrant examples of such religious statements" were. What is a "flagrant example?" It might be one of those old Anglo-Saxon words which are bad but become less bad when spoken in a lengthened derivative from the Latin. It might be the restatement of the moral law as the teacher learned it from her parents which might be slightly different from what the child's mother learned in her childhood.

Five years ago I attended a most interesting meeting of the Natural Law Institute of the University of Notre Dame at which for several days, Jews, Catholics, Protestants, Confucians, Moslems, Buddhists, Hindus discussed the Natural Law, each from his own standpoint, and when the sessions were over, there was no disagreement as to the moral law of God, but there were also no conversions. Each went his own way but all really went the same way, that is in the same direction.

The parents and teachers of the Jamaica High School truly need not fear God or any expression of reverence for Him; what they should fear is that their children will believe that those whom they hope to emulate will be not saints but sinners.

Ike's First Campaign Talk Gets "Low Rating"

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — From the standpoint of political effectiveness, President Eisenhower's first address of the campaign must be given a low "rating."

The address was over the heads of the audience. It attempted to cover too much ground and didn't explain any one point adequately. It was written for the eye and not for the ear. It dealt with generalities and did not deal with the consequences to the voters.

There are so many millions of persons who like President Eisenhower personally and who have faith in his integrity, his earnestness and his devotion to duty that it seems regrettable that 25 minutes of valuable TV time should have been taken up with so many abstract sentences. These were difficult for many listeners to grasp and the President failed to ask pointedly for support of the Republican ticket at the polls.

Only Brief Reference

Except for a brief reference at the start to his "Republican associates," there was not a word in it emphasizing the fact that the President is running on the Republican ticket, that he wants the people to vote for the Republican party this November, and that there are good reasons why the Democratic party should not be returned to power.

Maybe later on it is intended to do all this, and perhaps through other speakers. But anybody who utters a lot of generalities about his product to a prospective customer and leaves without once asking for the order has a lot to learn about the psychology of making a sale.

As for the vocabulary used, the speech was unfortunately directed to a group theoretically equipped with a better background on public affairs than the average listener possesses. How many persons in the audience, for example, understood the meaning of the word "unilateral?" How many persons knew the background of the controversy over atomic tests in which the President used the term and which he didn't explain? His implicit references in answer to the viewpoint on this topic expressed by the Democratic nominee were too vague to be effective.

Widespread publicity for a speech transmitted by a lot of stations or printed in many newspapers does not necessarily insure widespread listening or reading. There have been cases in political history where all the news reporting and editorials in the press were opposed to a certain candidate but this didn't defeat him. There's the famous case, for instance, of Mayor Hylan of New York, who went through a couple campaigns without the support of a single newspaper, but he had Tammany Hall's organization behind him, and he won anyhow.

Must Buck Organization

Why do such things happen? It is because the speechmakers in those campaigns usually do not get down to brass tacks and explain the issues, whereas the organization by word of mouth does explain fully and simply the reasons why the voters should support its candidate.

Mr. Eisenhower by the style of campaigning he apparently has adopted cannot win enough votes to overcome the organization work that will be done against him, particularly in the large cities. His only tactic, therefore, is to simplify the issues, center on a few and not try to "cover the waterfront" in every speech. His Wednesday night address also violated some of the fundamental rules of political combat. One good rule is never to fall into the trap of spending your time just defending yourself against the other fellow's arguments. For that means your opponent has the initiative.

A case in point is the issue of developing out of Stevenson's call for an "ending of the draft." Stevenson was politically clever in raising the issue. It's elemental. It means a great deal to millions of voters, particularly mothers. But the President tried to answer it only by saying it isn't practicable to end the draft now. Stevenson gained on this exchange because many uninformed voters will think he is really for ending the draft while Ike isn't—and that this is all there is to it.

The logical way to handle such a situation is not to go on the defensive but to take the offensive. Ike should have pointed out how dangerous his opponent's views seemed to be and how military weakness could actually invite war. He should have stressed that ending the draft now could mean that, if war came, many millions of boys would have to be sacrificed on the battlefield because they wouldn't be trained to fight. Death in war is more to be dreaded than a peacetime draft.

Could Have Gotten Advantage

Likewise, instead of talking about a "unilateral" ending of atom-bomb tests, Mr. Eisenhower had a chance to ask the American people if they wanted to stop developing new weapons—all weapons—while letting the enemy develop them and destroy us. By the time the argument was concluded, the listener should have been properly worried about the great risk involved in putting into the White House someone whose policies would cut down the manpower of the armed services at the same time that he favored a one-sided abandonment of experiments with the most powerful weapons needed to match the enemy if war comes.

Mr. Eisenhower has some good speechwriters who can write for the ear as well as the eye. And it isn't necessary to call names or to "take the low road" when going on the attack. But it is necessary to simplify and to explain clearly what the score is in words that a relatively uninformed audience across the country can understand. The voters aren't moved by lectures on international affairs, with references to remote areas which they can't even locate on the map. They are interested in the direct consequences to them and their families if there is a change in the White House.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

We have only one mixable prescription for the adjustable pebiscite of our free and equal voters. "Let your conscience be your guide and we'll send out a rescue expedition."

What effect will the women's vote have on the men? The same as usual plus interest. After looking at Libe-ace's pampered pompadour all yea she suddenly realizes she has a November choice of bald heads.

There's no percentage denying the ladies vote for the handsomest candidate. But this time both contestants feature the plunging scalp line.

A woman votes by tapping her teeth with a lead pencil. And finishes playing tick-toe with the fate of a nation.

She exercises the prerogative of equal representation and discloses an amalgam filling.

No October oratory will make a nut-brown maid fall for Judge Fuller's key-note. She has already made up her mind like a pre-fabricated bungalow.

Time and tide wait for no man but a bus driver will disrupt the schedule for a waving blond. Therefore the campaign committee should line up all the candidates and let the girls shop.

What difference does it make in national affairs? Right or wrong her Pekinese will snap at the letter carrier as usual. A woman's privilege of suffrage is a constitutional whim.

Foreign Body May Cause One-Sided Runny Nose

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

This is the story of a mishap with an unusual complication. It concerns Johnny and his runny nose. The tot was active and healthy until he fell out of a third story window, landing on a bush below. This broke his fall and saved his life but he was sent to the hospital because of a head injury.

The boy recovered except for a watery discharge from the right nostril. His nose trickled like a leaky faucet, more so when he bent over or stood on his head. His mother passed off the symptom as "the cold Johnny caught when he was in the hospital."

Meningitis developed several months later but the infection responded to antibiotic treatment. The colorless liquid continued to drip from the right nostril and the physician decided to collect a small amount and send it to the laboratory for chemical analysis.

The report showed that it was spinal fluid, the liquid that surrounds the brain and spinal cord. Since the secretion dripped from the nose, it was apparent that an opening must exist between the brain and the nasal passageways. But where and why?

The physician recalled the lad's accident and ordered X-rays of the skull. Evidence of an old fracture showed up but no signs of an opening. There was no alternative but to operate and explore the bony plate at the base of the brain near the back of the nose. The defect was found and repaired.

Johnny is now well and free of the potential danger of developing meningitis again from the source because bacteria no longer can enter the cranial cavity via the broken skull.

This is one of the rarer causes of nasal discharge. A less serious origin of persistent secretion from one nostril stems from the habit some children have of pushing small objects up the nose. When a small stone, bean, or pea lodges against the wall of the nasal

For one D. Papa, of course, raised heck, but the kid had an explanation. "I guess I just spent too much time on that fifth subject."

Stevenson Balky About Pinning Faults On Ike; Won't Use Suez

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—The Stevenson brain trust isn't advertising it, but there is a certain amount of trouble getting their candidate to come out and pin Eisenhower administration mistakes on Eisenhower himself.

At first Adlai ducked away from this, didn't want to tangle with the President.

His advisers warned, however, that no president could be divorced from either his party or his administration, and that Ike was just as much responsible for the mistakes of his cabinet as Truman and Roosevelt were for theirs. They also warned that Stevenson couldn't possibly win unless he aimed for the political heart of the GOP, namely Ike himself.

Stevenson finally bought this advice, though he was obviously unhappy about it, didn't even like it after his first speech pinning GOP responsibility on the GOP President.

Adlai's advisers have not been able to budge him on another campaign issue, however, namely Suez. They have pointed out that the Dulles-Eisenhower mistake in picking Colonel Nasser as the friend of the U. S. A. and in urging the British to get out of the Suez area in 1953 when the Eisenhower administration first took office is just as serious an error as any the Democrats made re Red China.

They believe that both Dulles and Eisenhower should be charged with fumbling and blundering in the Near East.

However, Adlai has ruled that in the interest of national security and a bipartisan foreign policy, Suez should not be made a campaign issue.

Ambassador's Wife In Kentucky

The gorgeous Lorraine Sheelin, now Mrs. John Sherman Cooper, was a big help to her husband when he was ambassador to India. But she isn't helping so much now that he's running for the Senate in Kentucky.

Lorraine's gracious smile, charming manner, and luxurious parties made a hit with Prime Minister Nehru and other Indian dignitaries. They were sorry to see both her and Ambassador Cooper go.

But down in homespun Kentucky it's a bit different, as exemplified by 103-year-old Ben V. Smith when Mrs. Cooper displayed her white parasol in Cooper's home town, Somerset.

"That wife of his was walking around the courthouse square with her white umbrella," said Uncle Ben, "and it wasn't even raining."

Senator's Indian Streak

Vermont's puckish Sen. Ralph Flanders has a slight streak of Indian in him. This came out after he finished praising Indian skills at a recent hearing.

"I am very glad," remarked Sen. Paul Douglas (D., Ill.), "to have this testimony from the senator from Vermont."

"Who is himself one hundred twenty-eighth Indian," added Flanders quickly.

Race Tolerance

While race riots occupy the headlines, one unsung group is quietly making progress toward better race relations. This is the President's Committee on Government Contracts, which enforces fair employment standards among companies doing business with Uncle Sam.

In Chicago, the committee helped Mayor Richard Daley with companies that had notified employment offices they would not hire Negro or Jewish workers.

A dozen companies with government contracts agreed to adopt a non-discrimination policy. Chicago's Federal Reserve Bank also agreed to hire Negro clerks for the first time, after Mayor Daley called a meeting of leading businessmen and asked their cooperation in ending race discrimination.

In Washington and Baltimore, the committee sent John Roosevelt, the late FDR's son, to talk to telephone company executives. Presidential aide Max Rabb also applied pressure from the White House. Together they persuaded the company to hire Negro telephone operators.

In the South, GOP leader John Minor Wisdom of New Orleans persuaded Shell Oil Company to revise its personnel policy and offer Negro laborers a chance for advancement. This has set a pattern for all the major oil refineries below the Mason-Dixon Line.

It's a long-range program that will take education and training, but the committee has undertaken it without fanfare.

Merry-Go-Round

Tom Kennedy, right-hand man of John L. Lewis and No. 2 man in the United Mine Workers, has written a blistering letter to Congressman William Green (D., Pa.) accusing him of stopping Senator Kennedy of Massachusetts from getting the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Tom Kennedy and Sen. Jack Kennedy are not related. But Tom Kennedy of the Mine Workers claimed Congressman Green knifed Senator Kennedy by reporting in Chicago that he'd voted for the Taft-Hartley Law. This swung enough labor votes away from Kennedy to stop his nomination.

James Oliver, who's waiting a recount to find out whether he won another congressional seat for the Democrats in Maine, has remarked that one reason he ran for Congress was to get retirement benefits. He served three terms in Congress as a Republican before switching to the Democratic party. This makes him eligible for a pension—if he can get back in Congress.

Latin delegates attending the Inter-American conference which Ike arranged while in Panama, went home grumbling against the President's brother Milton. They said all Milton did was make vague promises of American aid. Nothing concrete.

U. S. diplomats are boiling over Dulles's appointment of Stanley C. Allyn, president of National Cash Register, to head the U.S. delegation to the forthcoming UNESCO conference in New Delhi, India. Delegations of other countries will be headed by famous intellectual leaders, but the United States, which is trying to convince India that it isn't materialistic, will be represented by a corporation executive. When President Truman had to choose a similar delegation he picked a famous college president. His name: Dr. Milton Eisenhower.

On The Side

By E. V. Durline

Some college football coaches have a habit of referring to their players as "my kids." A ridiculous reference. The average age of college football players is 21. A male of 21 is a man. Nathan Hale was 21 when he voiced the immortal words, "I only regret I have but one life to lose for my country." Westinghouse invented the air brake when he was 21. Byron, at 21, wrote the brilliant piece titled English Bards and Scotch Reviewers from which the following is an excerpt:

As soon,
Seek roses in December, ice
in June,
Hope constancy in wind, or corn in chaff,
Believe a woman or an epitaph,
Or any other thing that's false before
You trust in critics.

HORSES AND WOMEN

What physical feature most reveals a woman's age? Is it the neck? Many people believe so. Anyway, such a revelation of age can be avoided by taking neck exercises. These call for rotating the head round and round up and down.

PASSING BY
Nat Holman, justly celebrated basketball player and coach. Once of that great team known as the "Original Celtics." For the past 37 years coach at the College of the City of New York.

Nat is off on a world tour. He will find basketball played practically everywhere he goes. There are said to be 20 million basketball players in 75 countries. The rules have been translated into 30 languages. Incidentally, when basketball teams of the year are discussed, the Original Celtics are always mentioned but never the outfit called the "Buffalo Germans." That was a great team too.

ASIDES

Every fourth person in the world is Chinese. That is a fact that provokes a variety of thought. There are about 600 million Chinese as compared to 200 million Russians and some 165 million Americans. Calvin Coolidge was born on July 4, in 1872.

ASKING

Queries from clients. Q. Did

Gordon MacRae and Arthur Godfrey appear together in a musical show? A. Yes, sir. Ten years ago, in 1946, they were in the cast of the musical titled "Three To Make Ready." Q. How many children have Josephine Baker, the Parisian chanteuse, and her husband, Jo Bouillon, adopted? A. Seven, mostly of different races and nationalities. They are as follows: Jary (Finnish), Louis (Colombian), Moses (Jewish), Claude (French), Manuel (Mexican), Kimura and Ako (Japanese). Q. What other United States presidents besides Truman were musically inclined? A. Only one I can think of offhand was Harding. He played alto horn in his college band. And later mastered a number of other band instruments.

LONGEVITY

To what extent does smoking and the drinking of alcoholic liquors effect longevity? My belief is that use of same in moderation has no effect on the life span. Many physicians now recommend the taking of a high-ball before dinner. However, let's not argue about it now. Just wanted to tell you about John Dixie of Belleville, Ont. He drank and smoked most of his life. He recently passed on as the result of an accident. He was 105 at the time of his passing. He was not a vegetarian.

THOSE PILLS

Note it reported a well-known Hollywoodian took 125 sleeping pills at one time and subsequently denied she was trying to kill herself. She must have had a really bad case of insomnia. Anyway, keep in mind what I mentioned the other day. If you take some sleeping pills don't take an alcoholic drink right after that. It could kill you.

OVER THERE

In Belgium gasoline is 42 cents a gallon. In Holland it is 38 cents a gallon. In Denmark it is 58 cents. In Finland 64. In France 68. In Germany, 70. In Italy a gallon of gasoline costs 80 cents! So now you know why scooters are so popular in Europe. A scooter made in Holland is said to be capable of traveling 200 miles on one gallon of gasoline.

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

Moscow radio pays tribute to James Fenimore Cooper, late U. S. writer of novels about Indians. Because his heroes were Redskins?

Those males who just couldn't make up their minds whether to buy a snappy gray or a conservative white straw hat can now relax. The season is over.

Seven Favorites Win At Fairgo, Carrillo Rides Triple

Tara's Hall Wins Third Time, Bets Hit $192,883 Ladies Day

Jeepstress, Drayton's Sal Repeat; Snyder Pilots 10th Winner

Fairgo Facts

Favorites copped seven of the eight events. Emilio Carrillo scored a "triple." Tara's Hall notched his third win of the meeting. Joe Snyder forged ahead in the jockey's race with his tenth first and Charles E. George saddled a pair of winners to tie four other trainers on the Ladies Day program yesterday at Fairgo.

Handle hits $192,883. A crowd estimated at 4,700 turned out for the 11th day's program of Cumberland's first 12-day session and the mutual handle of $192,883, unusually high for a Monday, sent the meek total past the two million dollar mark—$2,045,463 to be exact.

It was probably the biggest day for favorites in the long history of racing at the local half mile and the 7 out of 8 sent the totals up to 32 out of 88 for a mark of 36.4 per cent.

Yesterday's handle exceeded the first Monday's play by $31,749 and it came as a big surprise since many of the officials figured that the betting might reach $160,000. Yesterday's betting was the fourth best day of the current season, topped only by two Saturday's and Cumberland Day.

Foul Claim Disallowed. Trainer Charles E. George started catching up with the leaders when he saddled Baby Song, a 9-year-old mare, which defeated Apricot by 1½ lengths in the opener. Willie Clark, on Apricot, lodged a foul claim against the winner, ridden by Emilio Carrillo for alleged interference on the first turn but the stewards said "No." Baby Song was the first of the favorites to register and paid $4.60.

The shortest price of the meeting was "down on the tote" when Spinning Jenny, a 4-year-old chestnut filly, trounced Master Degree by ten lengths in the second race and returned $3.00 for $2.

The daily double payoff on Baby Song (8) and Spinning Jenny (3) dipped to $9.60. The pool of $2,020 was exceeded only last Saturday's $24,481.

Conrad L. Parsons' Jeepstress became a two-time winner at the local oval when she edged Billy Clifton in the third. Under the guidance of Jockey Donald Teague, the Jeep mare, was the third straight favorite to register and paid $4.60.

Five Trainers Tied. Charles E. George made the trainers' race a five-way tie when he saddled Tara's Hall, victor in the fourth over Sir Stake. Tara's Hall made it three wins for the meeting and equalled the performance of Punt Vendor. The 4-year-old gelding gave the favorites a sweep of the first four races and presented George with his four winner.

Mary Godfrey, Fred Kratz up, scored by a length over Pamjon, the first choice of the bettors to annex the fifth and snapped the winning string of the favorites. Mary Godfrey, owned by Mrs. Webster W. Snyder, had finished second in three previous outings here. The four-year-old Noble Impulse fully returned $7.40 for $2.

Gerst Posts 9th Win. Melvin Gerst, clever apprentice rider from Baltimore, booted home his 9th winner when he scored with Drayton's Sal by the margin of six lengths over Hero's Folly in the sixth. The win gave Roy R. Hunt's 5-year-old mare a "double" for the meeting.

Joseph Snyder took over sole possession of first place in the jockeys' race by notching his 10th win aboard Star Worship, which finished four lengths in the fore of Ripper in the seventh. Do It Now showed.

Carrillo Has Triple. The finale went to B. B. Mint and gave Emilio Carrillo his third winning mount of the afternoon. He was the third rider to register a "triple" here in 11 days, having been preceded by Fausto D. Rivera and Melvin Gerst. B. B. Mint, owned by Allen B. Hammer, defeated Busy Amie, a 70-1 shot, who paid the nice mutual of $38.60 to place. Safe Deposit took show money in the third mile and a sixteenth race on the program.

Dodgers Lose To Pirates, 6-5, Drop Into Second Place

Thomas Bats In 3 Tallies For Winners

Friend Is Victor, Brooklyn Captures Suspended Tilt, 8-3

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24 (AP)—Frank Thomas knocked in three runs with a homer and three singles tonight to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to a thrilling 6-5 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The triumph sent the staggering Dodgers into second place behind Milwaukee. Before the game the Dodgers completed yesterday's suspended contest and won it 8-3 for their only victory in the four-game series with the Pirates.

The desperate Dodgers had forged a 5-5 tie in the eighth inning on Gil Hodges' two-out, two-run homer. It was his 31st of the year.

Trail By Half Game

In winning the suspended game the Dodgers had knocked the Braves out of first place by one percentage point. A few hours later the weary Dodgers set out for Brooklyn to wind up their season. They're now a half-game behind the Braves who were idle today.

The sizzling hot National League pennant race now is in such shape that the Cincinnati Redlegs—also idle today—are 1½ games out of first place.

Friend Is Victor

Bob Friend, ace right hander of the Pirate mound staff, went all the way for the red-hot sixth-place club. He gave up 10 hits, three of them in the first inning when the Dodgers jumped off to a three-run lead. Then he was in command throughout until he gave up the homer to Hodges.

In the ninth the Dodgers' Junior Gilliam got a single with one out. Friend then forced Pee Wee Reese to hit into a double play and send the crowd of 17,252 home delirious.

Roger Craig, the third Dodger pitcher, was on the mound when the Pirates roared back with their winning rally. Craig got Bob Clemente on an infield out and then walked Bill Virdon for the second time in the game.

Johnny Powers flied deep to center before Craig gave up a walk to hard-hitting Dale Long who had singled twice previously. That set the stage for Thomas to come through with his fourth hit in five trips, a sharp single to center which scored Virdon from second.

Thomas Is Ejected

Thomas was thrown out of the game a moment later for protesting a decision when he tried to steal second.

The game was a heart-breaker for the Dodgers who have five more games to play, three of them against the Pirates who now are only one game behind in the season series. The Dodgers have won 10 of 19 games played.

Friend, who now has a 17-16 record, was on the ropes in the first inning but helped himself out of the jam with a weird play which was turned into a double play through some off-beat base running by Carl Furillo.

Clem Labine, who hurled the final inning to complete the suspended game, started the regular contest but was kayoed in the second inning. He had a shaky first inning, giving up three runs on four hits. After a leadoff walk and a single in the second he was yanked in favor of Ed Roebuck. But his night's work let him tie a club record for most appearances in a single season—60.

Stewards, Mutuel Heads Affected

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 24 (AP)—The West Virginia State Racing Commission cut its own salaries and those of its track officials again today to enable the agency to stay within its budget for the present fiscal year.

Chairman John E. Ambrose of Charles Town and Commissioner Roy Graham of Huntington accepted "without question" a revised expenditures schedule prepared by Budget Director Denzil Gainer.

Commissioner Ralph LePore of Wheeling was not present at a meeting today. The new schedule must receive the approval of the State Board of Public Works, but the commission believes that will be a mere formality.

Stewards Cut To $50

Under the new plan, each of the three commissioners will draw $1,500 for the year. Stewards at Waterford Park, Charles Town and Wheeling Downs who are on the state payroll will be cut from $75 a day to $50.

Additional reductions will drop the commission—employed parimutuel supervisor at the tracks from $50 a day to $32.50, and will leave the agency's office here unstaffed from April 1 through next June 30.

Mrs. Bethel Adkins, the commission's chief clerk, ordinarily is employed for 12 months. Her $350-a-month position will be wiped out during the fiscal year's final three months.

The commission insisted again today, however, that it would ask the Legislature convening in January for a supplemental appropriation for the remainder of this fiscal period.

Today's action marked the second time in recent months that the agency has been forced by budget limitations to cut its outlays for salaries.

Worked Without Pay

Last April 25, the three commissioners decided to work without pay for the remainder of the past fiscal year which ended June 30, giving up a normal income of about $1,625 each based on $25 for each day of racing.

At the same time, they cut the $100-a-day wage of the state steward at the one-mile Waterford Park track, near Chester, to $75 for the remainder of last year.

The steward at Wheeling Downs was cut from $75 to $50 a day, and the parimutuel supervisor at all three tracks was cut from $50 to $35. There was no racing scheduled for Charles Town for the remainder of that year.

The 1956 Legislature, which largely rewrote the state's racing statutes, put a ceiling of $2,500 a year on the salary of each commissioner. It also put a $5,000 ceiling on a special fund the commission formerly used for operating expenses, and directed use of that fund only for medical purposes.

The commission's budget for salaries for the present year was set by the Legislature at $39,700 and the agency ran into immediate trouble in the first quarter by exceeding a $12,000 July-through-September allotment.

Other Meets Set

Still on the state's racing schedule for the remainder of this calendar year is a Wheeling Downs meeting Oct. 20-Nov. 17, and a meeting tentatively set for Nov. 10-Dec. 15 at Charles Town.

The commission normally meets in December to set racing dates for the following calendar year. Graham already has said he would prefer to wait until the January-March session of the Legislature before setting next year's meetings.

Chisox Top Detroit In 14-11 Game

Lollar And Boone Belt Two Homers

DETROIT, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox and the Detroit Tigers sprayed 36 base hits, including seven home runs, over Briggs Stadium today with the White Sox emerging with a 14-11 decision.

Sherman Lollar of the Sox and Detroit's Ray Boone each cracked a pair of home runs. Charlie Maxwell had a bases-loaded clout and Red Wilson added a two-run blast for the Tigers while Larry Doby hit his 22nd for Chicago.

The two teams used nine pitchers, with reliever Paul LaPlante getting the victory and rookie Hal Woodeshick taking the defeat.

Boone had three singles in addition to his two home runs for a perfect day at bat. Chicago's Minnie Minoso had four hits, including every man in the White Sox lineup collected at least one safety.

The White Sox jumped off to an 11-0 lead, after four innings, but starter Bob Keegan was rapped for seven runs and could not hold the big advantage.

Bethea Stops Joe Bygraves

Jamaican Fades Out In 5th At St. Nick

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Ever pressing Wayne Bethea of New York won a fifth round technical knockout over Joe Bygraves when the British Empire heavyweight champion asked the referee to stop the fight at the end of the fifth round of a telecast bout at St. Nicholas Arena. Bethea weighed 202½, Bygraves 190½.

After piling up a good lead in the first two rounds with solid body smashes, the 25-year-old Jamaican now living in England, wilted under the stocky New Yorker's relentless pressure.

The muscular, six-foot invader went down from a light left and right to the head in the fifth after absorbing more than 20 assorted blows in the round. He slid down in Bethea's corner and took the

Nashua Nominated For Belmont Race

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Nashua and 12 other horses were nominated for Saturday's $75,000-added Woodward Stakes at Belmont Park, but the name of Swaps was missing when the list was announced today by Jimmy Kilroe, racing secretary.

The mile and one-quarter race will be the first for Nashua since he won the $114,400 Monmouth Handicap July 14.

Swaps is at Atlantic City, where he was scratched from the United Nations Handicap Sept. 15 because of a lame foot.

Others nominated for the Woodward were Devastation, Thinking Cap, Cavort, Summer Tan, Cop, Kettle, Mister Gus, Busher Fantasy, Jet Action, Midafternoon, Find, Fisherman and Reneged.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. (INS)—Jayne Mansfield tells me she is going about very quietly having her marriage to Paul Mansfield dissolved. I asked her if she had plans to marry Mickey Hargitay. "Maybe in ten years I might marry him," she said. "I am only 23 and very busy right now. My daughter and my career give me very little time for marriage."

Hargitay, "Mr. All America," is talking a TV series deal with George Sanders. Incidentally, Jayne made "The Burglar," an independent picture, just before she was signed for the stage role in "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter." She plays opposite Dan Duryea and 20th Century-Fox is talking a releasing deal with Producer Lou Kellman.

Although the studios are dressing up the new westerns with "Psychological approaches" and more "adult meanings"—the outdoor opuses are still the main bread winners at the box office. So, I'm not surprised that UI chief Ed Muhl has decided on another western for Jeff Chandler, "Pay the Devil" as Jeff's next.

After a fling as a lawyer in "The Tattered Dress," Jeff pins on a sheriff's badge as the star of the Al Zugsmith picture which they tell me has all the suspense of "Bad Day at Black Rock." Well, I guess as long as they aren't making Jeff an Indian again—the got awfully tired of "Cochise" he won't complain.

I suppose it's a little early to mention Academy Awards but certainly Kirk Douglas should not be overlooked when voting time rolls around. His performance as Vincent Van Gogh in "Lust For Life" is so great, never once does Kirk forget himself and be other than the unhappy confused artist.

The characters assembled with the artist, and most of the Van Gogh paintings, even the famous postman, are introduced by Director Vincente Minnelli with artistic beauty.

The frightening scene of the artist who in a moment of derangement mutilated his ear seems even more horrible in its visualization.

A big word of praise for Tony Quinn's Gaugin, the stalwart artist to whom Van Gogh clings.

Eva Marie Saint, who has been visiting her director-husband Jeffrey Hayden in St. Tropez, was called back by M-G-M for "Raintree County." She returned last week and at once reported to M-G-M.

Looks as if Jeffrey, Pier Angeli and Mel Ferrer will be in France for some time, because it has been decided to film all of "Harvest Thunder" ("The Vintage") there. This makes Pier Angeli very sad, because she misses her baby and her husband Vic Damone, who is in New York with his weekly TV show.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Close to $15,000 was raised from the "Lust For Life" premiere and the fete given at the home of the Edwin Pauleys for the Junior Art Council of the Los Angeles County Museum and the Art Council of the University of California.

All Hollywood turned out. Lana Turner made a very dignified figure with a feathered headdress and a maternity gown of silver cloth. Lex Barker says, "She's the only woman in the world who's going to have a baby."

Jack Benny escorted by Cyd Charisse, by permission of both Mary Livingston and Tony Martin, their respective spouses.

Gracie Allen with George Burns, of course, tried to fix my pearl necklace but the clasp was broken.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Secrets Of Charm

Eye Make-Up Important

The soft, wide-winged calf is also an eye-opener. It gives a wide-eyed look that is pure allure. For evening, more eye shadow will be used than 't has in the past. Eye shadow intensifies the color of the iris by adding contrast to the white of the eyes. But the trick is to use it skillfully so it will add soft and natural loveliness. Otherwise it won't beautify and accentuate the eye. Experiment with eye make-up

is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Cards of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindness extended to us during the illness and following the death of our beloved husband and father, Henry W. Boch. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and loaned cars for the funeral.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Albert H. Smith, who passed away 3 years ago today, Sept. 25, 1953.

September brings sad memories. Of a loved one gone to rest. He will never be forgotten. By the ones who loved him best. We often look at his picture. Smiling and he seems to say. Don't grieve I'm only sleeping. Will see you some day.

Sadly missed by his Wife and Son

PPG Company Denies Blame In June Blast

Plant Manager Cites Position

R. M. Hainsfurther, manager of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's Works No. 7 at North Branch, issued a statement yesterday that the company considers itself in no way responsible for the June 19 accident at the construction site of the new plate glass plant at North Branch in which 10 workmen were injured, three fatally.

Six separate actions have been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court against Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company in which survivors of the accident claim damages ranging from $50,000 to $75,000 each for injuries sustained in the explosion of a gas heater being used in an unfinished silo at the construction site.

The company had no employees in the silo area and had no control over the operation of the gas heater, according to Hainsfurther.

"The company deeply regrets the occurrence on its property of any accident which might cause injury to any person," Hainsfurther stated. "These men who were involved were not our employees," he added, "but were employed by independent contractors and were injured in a silo which had not been turned over to the company and for which it had no responsibility."

"Of course we will defend ourselves against these suits," Hainsfurther stated, "but we believe we have no responsibility for the accident or injuries."

Legion Issues Strong Protest On US 40 Plan

Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, with its membership of 1,061 veterans is strongly protesting the Federal plan to bypass the Cumberland plan by excluding this section of U.S. Route 40 from the federal highway system.

Russell C. Paupe, post adjutant disclosed last night that he had been instructed by Post Commander Charles E. Griffith to prepare a letter and inform various interested local, state and federal officials that "the Legion will fight with all its resources, any move to bypass Cumberland by excluding this historic roadway from the federal system."

Griffith said, "the exclusion of this section of Route 40 seems inconsistent with federal government promises to aid distressed areas of heavy unemployment. We have been making an effort here to obtain new industry and promote tourist trade in this entire area. Exclusion of Route 40 in the interstate highway system, certainly does not aid these plans," he concluded.

Paupe said last night he is sending letters of protest to all agencies involved, informing them of the local post's action.

The regular meeting of Fort Cumberland Post will be held tonight at 8 o'clock.

Pa. Resident Charged With Fraud Intent

Bruce R. Boden, of RD 1, Artemas, Pa., was charged with intent to defraud an insurer and was bound over to the January term of the grand jury if Bedford County following a preliminary hearing yesterday before Justice of the Peace H. Cyril Bingham.

He was arrested in connection with a fire on August 19 which leveled a combination store and dwelling at Inglesmith, in Bedford County.

A brother, Ralph Boden, who waived a hearing on a charge of arson has been a prisoner in the Bedford County Jail.

He is to be released and recharged on intent to defraud an insurer. His brother Bruce, was released under $1,000 bond.

According to testimony in yesterday's hearing, Bruce Boden was reported to have lured out two insurance policies valued at $13,000 each on the property on July 11.

Testimony also disclosed that he had removed some personal belongings from the building prior to the fire.

Ralph Boden, according to testimony, was parked in a car some distance from the scene of the blaze and was reported seen about two hours before the fire started.

Railroad Fans Welcomed

Mrs. Gerard Everstine (center), of the Allegany County Historical Society, shows one of the Society's exhibits to Mrs. Margaret Fodder and Mrs. Nellie Welsh, both of Somerset, Pa., who came here Sunday on the last steam-powered passenger train of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Mrs. Fodder and Mrs. Welsh were among a party of steam-engine fans who made the excursion here from Somerset, Rockwood and Meyersdale, Pa. Part of the group toured the B&O shops, and others visited Cumberland's historic points.

Times-News Cooking School To Open Today

Today at 9:15 the annual Times-News Cooking School will open at the Strand Theatre to continue through Friday.

This "Rhapsody of Recipes Cooking School" will be conducted by two nationally-known home economists from the National Live Stock and Meat Board. They are Miss Florence Gattshall, lecturer, and Miss Dolores Smith, assistant lecturer, both of Chicago.

For a number of years cooking schools have played a key role in the Meat Board's extensive educational program on meat. The four-day cooking school is a vital medium through which the Times-News, in cooperation with the Board, will bring the complete meat story to thousands of homemakers throughout the area. The personable home economists will also discuss and demonstrate the menus, garnishes, salads and desserts that blend most harmoniously with the different meat dishes.

The "Rhapsody of Recipes Cooking School" will cover every phase of cookery, care, selection and nutritive value of meat as well as pointing up the value of lard as an all-purpose shortening. Beef, veal, pork and lamb recipes will be featured as the preparation of more than 10 dishes is demonstrated each day. The school will be conducted in a completely equipped kitchen on the Strand stage.

Each step will be explained thoroughly from the selection of the meat at the market to the completion of the attractive dish for the family table. Homemakers attending the school—for which there is no admission charge—will find that the skilled home economists have much valuable information to pass along on the proper utilization of a wide range of meat cuts, variety meats, canned meats, sausage and ready-to-serve meats.

Selection, identification and cookery pointers will be brought out which the wise shopper and homemaker can put to excellent use in solving the two problems of keeping economy in the budget and variety in the menu. Through the cooking school homemakers will observe how this can be accomplished through better and broader use of the less-demanded, thrifty cuts and kinds of meat.

Homemakers who are interested in feeding their families enough of the right foods will find they are definitely in tune with the times. According to the cooking school lecturers, who have worked with homemakers all over the country, women are more interested now than ever before in seeing that the foods they serve are the foods their families need. These two home economists are well-versed on the nutritive values of the various foods and this vital subject will be included in all sessions of the school.

Each person attending the school will receive an up-to-date "Rhapsody of Recipes" cook book, which includes all the recipes prepared at the school as well as many others plus handy references on meat selection, cookery and carving.

Prizes will be awarded at the cooking school include a Caloric gas range by L. Bernstein Furniture Company, a Kenmore gas dryer by the Cumberland and Allegany Gas Company, seven piece lazy Susan packed with gourmet delicacies by S. T. Little Jewelry Company, a General Electric steam iron by Potomac Edison Company, a five-pound fruit cake and 25 loaves of Bump bread by the Community Baking Company, an electric coffee maker by Cumberland Cloak and Suit Store, a pair of corduroy foam rubber pillows by Rosenbaum's, a Farber electric fry pan by Whitacre's Gift and Appliance Center, a Hamilton Beach food mixer by Queen City Dairy.

A meeting of the executive board of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the post home in Ridgeley. Commander Archie Lough urges all officers to be present.

Friendsville Flood Project Wins Approval

Army Engineers Inform Beall

U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall was informed in Washington over the weekend that the Army Engineers have approved plans for a flood protection project for Friendsville in Garrett County.

In a letter to Senator Beall, Col. Roy S. Kelley, acting district engineer for the Pittsburgh District of the Corps of Engineers, said that a project report prepared by his office has been approved by the chief of engineers and that funds for the construction of the project have been allotted.

The plan calls for a channel improvement of Bear Creek, with the Federal Government paying $50,600 of the cost.

According to Col. Kelley, local interests will be required under Federal law to assume the cost of certain items such as lands, easements, rights-of-way and adjustments of water, gas and utility pole lines; to hold and save the United States free from damages due to the construction works; and to maintain the completed works in a manner satisfactory to the chief of engineers.

He added that the Town of Friendsville is being requested to submit to the engineers a formal assurance of local cooperation.

Cafeteria Managers Confer Here

Cafeteria managers of Allegany County public schools met on Saturday at West Side School with Mrs. Gladys M. Eaton, dietitian and supervisor of cafeterias of county schools.

This was the first meeting of the managers since the opening of schools this fall. Mrs. Eaton said that a discussion was held on new forms for government commodities.

Should the current strike at the Cumberland branch of Swift and Company continue for sometime the menus of hot lunches of county public schools will have to be reshuffled with emphasis on more pork products and cheese.

Mrs. Eaton said yesterday that at present the various schools can get along for about a week insofar as one of the popular meat dishes is concerned—ground beef.

Each week ground beef is bought in rather large quantities and if it is not available in the near future, managers of the cafeterias will be feeding the pupils more pork products, more cheese, dried beans and eggs.

Mrs. Eaton pointed out that government surplus canned ham and pork products could be substituted on the menu.

Civil Service Commission Will Receive Applications

The Civil Service Commission last night decided to begin receiving applications for the positions of junior inspector and draftsman in the City Engineering Department.

Applications for the two jobs will be taken by City Clerk Wallace G. Ulery until 5 p. m. Monday, October 22, when the commission will meet to set a date for examinations.

The commissioners also discussed examinations for police and fire departments but withheld final decision on applications and examinations.

The commission received examination material for the inspector position with the engineering department and decided to take applications immediately for both the inspector and draftsman vacancies.

The commission also ordered the names of the employees of the former City Health Department which was abolished by city order to be taken from the Civil Service Commission rolls.

Ulery, secretary to the commission, read notices from various departments in the city of resignations, retirements and reclassifications of employees. It also was noted that Patrolman Clarence Valentine of the Police Department ends his probation period October 3 and preparations for his final examination were made.

Robert B. McCracken, who had been hired as a policeman and then decided against accepting the job, was stricken from the civil service eligibility list.

Donald W. Mason, local attorney who has been recodifying the civil service rules and regulations, submitted a copy of the laws, rules and regulations of classified employees to members of the board for their study.

Mason promised the board he would have the police and fire departments section completed before the next meeting of the commission.

It was decided to review the recording work and make necessary recommendations and changes at the next regular meeting of the commission, Monday, October 22, at its office in City Hall at 7 p. m.

Board Rejects Application For Beer License

An application of Caroline Garlitz for a Class D beer license for premises at 16 South Mechanic Street has been rejected by the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners.

In August the board had denied her application for a similar license in premises on Front Street.

According to an opinion of the Board, it heard the second application on September 18 and decided to give it further consideration.

The board chairman, Walter C. Capper, said there are beer and liquor licenses both on North and South Mechanic Street and the board has come to the conclusion there is no reason to grant a Class D beer license at the address.

The board recently announced that it would not grant additional licenses except where the board was convinced that it was entirely proper to do so.

Luke Voters Nominate Duckworth

Acting Mayor Is Unopposed

Edward Duckworth, electrician foreman at the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company was nominated, unopposed, for office of mayor of that community during a primary election held last night at the Devon Club.

Duckworth, who received some 72 of the 78 votes cast, has been acting Mayor in the absence of Charles Dayton, who is on a tour of Europe. Duckworth served as a city councillor for ten terms.

Dayton announced that he is not seeking re-election after serving in that office for three two-year terms. There are about 350 eligible voters in Luke and some 78 went to the polls last night.

Nominated for councilmen were Thomas Haywood, 62 votes; Alvin Diaz, 57 votes; Kenneth Wilcox, 52 votes; Luther Crites Sr., 49 votes; James Poland, 31 votes; Harry Dawson, incumbent, 29 votes, and Milton Siveley, incumbent, 25 votes.

Leo Cave, who has been filling the unexpired term of the late Robert Stump, was not nominated last night. The meeting was opened by Duckworth with Augustine Diaz as chairman.

Registration clerks were Mrs. Margaret Harvey and Mrs. Phoebe Newlon with Mrs. Virgil Raines as clerk. Other residents of Luke desiring to be a candidate for office may file a petition containing the names of 10 eligible voters and have it submitted five days prior to the general election which will be held on October 5 in the Cromwell Building.

Chamber Urges Comparative Bids On Work

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce said yesterday that prudence and good judgment should lead residents of this area to seek comparative bids on home improvement offers made by outside firms.

Care should be exercised, the Chamber said, when special inducements are offered to persuade home owners to sign up for improvements.

A number of persons have signed contracts and then contacted the Chamber of Commerce, complaining the price was too high.

In most cases, there is no complaint on the quality of materials or workmanship, but people have insisted they have been "taken" on account of the price.

It is too late, the Chamber said, for in most cases there is no fraud and no failure to carry out the contract.

Whenever there is soliciting for services, the Chamber said, it is wise to investigate what may appear to be a bargain before the deal is closed.

The Chamber suggested that people "shop around" for services as they do for household appliances by getting a bid from a firm of this area which is known, and which can make adjustments if all is not satisfactory.

Cumberland merchants, it said, make every effort to have on hand the things which are needed in this area, and if they do not have it in stock, will make every effort to get the item.

School Leader From England Visits County

Tour Is Planned Of Institutions

Aschool official of Surrey, England, is on a visit to Allegany County and plans to tour a number of schools during her brief stay here.

She is Miss A. Elizabeth Adams, an inspector of some 90 schools, who expects to remain in this country for about a year to learn ways toward the improvement of teachers in service.

During an informal chat yesterday afternoon in the office of Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of county schools, Miss Adams discussed the purpose of her trip to the United States and touched on her teaching background.

She said that there are approximately 1,000 teachers under her supervision although the responsibility of the various schools is placed more in the hands of the headmaster who does teaching work as well as administrative work.

In her early teaching career, Miss Adams said she taught geography in high school and during her stay in the United States hopes to visit various sections of the country and see as many sights as possible. She was highly impressed by the mountain scenery of Western Maryland.

Today she plans to visit Mt. Savage High School and possibly two or three other schools of the county and will be accompanied by Rizer. Miss Helen M. Clark, of Baltimore, director of the Division of Library Extension for the State of Maryland, came to Cumberland with Miss Adams.

Miss Adams arrived in the United States about three weeks ago and had been staying in Westminster. After leaving Allegany County she plans to journey to Chicago for further observations in her project.

She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in geography and earned her Master's Degree in education at the Institute of Education at the University of London.

She has had a rather interesting career. During World War II, when she was teaching and also working toward her Master's Degree she also did Civil Defense work in England and for a while drove an ambulance.

Miss Adams pointed out that in England, science and mathematics are the two fields which cause concern insofar as getting teachers for such subjects in the school system.

There is about a 10 to 20 per cent turnover each year in the teaching profession. Rizer remarked that this is just about equivalent to Allegany County's turnover annually.

An inspector position in England is similar to a supervisory job in this country. While in this country she will get impressions of the teaching profession throughout the nation.

Parent Study Workshop Set For October 10

A parent-child study general workshop will be held on Wednesday, October 10, from 10 a. m. until 3 p. m., at West Side School.

Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel of Allegany County public schools, announced yesterday the workshop is being co-sponsored by the Pupil Personnel Department and the Allegany County Council of Parent-Teachers Associations.

Consultant for the workshop, according to Higgins, will be Dr. Donald F. Stanger, of the Child Study Institute of the University of Maryland.

The workshop is being conducted for all parents whether or not they have participated in such a parent-child study group.

The program will be informative on much new scientific data and better understanding of children. Last year Allegany County had 17 functioning groups in parent-child study and had one general workshop in October and a leadership workshop in April.

Present plans are to hold the general workshop next month and a workshop for leaders later in the fall and probably another leadership workshop in the spring.

More than 200 participated last year, said Higgins. Mrs. Martin Sharp of 835 Gephart Drive is chairman of the parent-child study committee of the county council.
